The Light and Love of Christ:
Your Gift Enables Us to Follow Our Call
The 2024 Pledge Campaign

Dear Members and Friends,

Ewing Covenant Presbyterian Church offers so much: our ministries are varied, our outreach is extensive, and our connections are diverse. Still, if you had to narrow the scope of our community down to only one thing, I can think of no better sentiment that summarizes our calling than that of being a place where others find the light and the love of Christ.

Over the next four Sundays, we will hear from several leaders and members, sharing about where they have discovered Christ’s light in our worship. They will bring stories about where they have encountered Christ’s love in our mission and vision. It’s our hope that in learning about the difference our church makes in the lives of many, you might be encouraged to continue your support.

As we look to fund ECPC’s 2024 budget, while we are so blessed by the income from the Ewing Church Cemetery as well as the careful use of our endowments, the truth is that we continue to count on the financial support of our community. One important way for our church to thrive over the next 12 months is if we can budget and plan through the pledges of our community. We encourage you to think of your pledge not as a binding financial contract, but as a generous commitment to the mission, values, and future of Ewing Covenant Presbyterian Church.

We simply cannot do this without your gifts of time, talent & treasure.

If you have supported our ministries in the past without pledging, we thank you. All contributions make an enormous difference. However, for this year, in particular, we ask that you consider making a formal 2024 pledge. Although we will accept your commitment at any time, we hope that you will prayerfully consider making your pledge by February 11th. When you are ready, you may make your pledge online by clicking here, by using the forms located on the table outside the Worship Space, or by calling the church office at any time. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.

We thank you for your support, your generosity, and your commitment to this church!
